<pre>'''Send mail to an user by using templates: - &lt;template_name&gt;_subject.txt for the subject - &lt;template_name&gt;_body.txt for the plain text body - &lt;template_name&gt;_body.html for the HTML body '''</pre>

It would be better to switch to using `send_templated_mail`, with support for the legacy template names. This way there's no chance existing installations with customised templates revert back to default templates.

Ok. This modification was done to quickly implement another patch and should have not been proposed as a patch. Then I preferred to keep using `send_registration_mail` proposing a patch to support legacy names: #10635. If it is ok, I will set this ticket as rejected.
